

www.aerieretreat.com 30 acres nestled among trees in the foothills of the Cascades, The Aerie is named for the nests of eagles, who roost by the hundreds during winter at the adjacent Bear Valley Bald Eagle Refuge.

The Aerie offers endless quiet, innumerable great places to sit/contemplate/meditate, hours and days one can walk through mixed forest. Main house has 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, large farm kitchen, large living/dining room. Gathering House has 1000 sq foot gathering room, kitchen, 2 bathrooms, spa room.

Developed as a spiritual retreat property, solar-assisted, The Aerie offers itself to many uses. The grounds have ceremonial and sacred sites. The land itself is a healing field. Vision quest cairns and thrones remain on the hill above, the sites facing Mt. Dome, the northernmost point of the Modoc world.

The Aerie is a gardener's dream with glass green house; fenced organic acre with in ground irrigation; fenced orchard with a dozen fruit trees; fenced spiral garden with roses, flowers, food, spices, culinary and medicinal herbs. The south facing 8 acre field is an isolated flow of sandy loam waiting for a lavender field or a paddock and stable.
